

WRITING THE FUTURE

From that day you were born. That second you took your first breath. There was a written path for you to walk. A path we all are supposed to walk that guide us through life. In some cases that path changes along the way and things that were supposed to happen or be don't turn out the way they were supposed to. That's when you reach the pen and start write your own path and future.

You are writing the future.

We all have those dark places and those happy moments. But something we learn sometimes too soon in our life is that it's hard, sad and not always that sunny, happy colorful world we imagined. Because those dark moments and the shades often take over. And the story we write about rainbows and unicorns becomes a depressed story about handling life and thoughts about quit living sooner than your path has its goal.

Everybody lives it.
Everybody sees it.
Everybody feels it.
Some of us can handle it.
But
Some of us can't.

This is for those that lost their faith and beliefs.
Everybody write their own story. But together we can write the future.
You are never alone. Not even once. We are here for you.

We stated this band with a vision to make lost paths becomes one path. A lighted road to the future where we walk together. A path where everyone is welcome.

We have fought darkness for over 10 years now. We had reached a point in our life where the sad moments and the dark places became something that became our ordinary day.

We wanted to break free and prevent that from happening to others.

Music is something that so many can relay, feel and breath thru. We wrote lyrics about story's taken straight from our own lifes. We wanted to tell you that we have been there on the dark side. We have felt the pain, sorrow, sadness. There where so many times that we wanted to give up on life, but didnt. Because we where supposed to fulfill a purpose.

We made people feel that they belong, that they where not alone. We where there with them. We helped them thru. We wiped away their tears. We lifted the up. We made them feel again. All through our music.

Our messages and story's became viral and first then we could reflect how dark our world really are. We reached out to all those people that we had helped and together we started the journey to write the future.

And now here we are explaining our feelings around the world and how we treat it and how the world treat us. How people start war just to become bigger and release more darkness. We want to stop that. And we now that we can together. Togheter with you.

Our music is honest and we Will never back out from what we believe in.

And we believe in a world where we all are united. You can't have a future if there is no future.

And if we fight real hard.

If we fight together.

Maybe then...

Yeah maybe then we can write the future together. We are nothing without you. And we want you to feel the same way against us. let us be your hope, joy happiness. Your warrior in shiny armor fighting only for you in this war against the darkness that we all feel sometime in our life. When we lose your path. We lead you to our path where we walk together.

You are never alone.

we are

WRITING THE FUTURE.

but together with you we are

WRITING THE FUTURE.

Writing The Future

Has done several of big shows around the world and toured with some of the biggest Swedish bands.

Since they started 2010 the road has been a roller coaster but they have always had their eyes targeting their goal. Everything they does is a bit och plan much bigger and soon they are at that point where they have shown you all of their dreams.

Writing The Future started off in the beginning of 2010 by Rickard Berg, the drummer and ex guitarist, Carlyle Fernandes who found each other through a page called bandfinder. Short after that Simon Savén Östebo joined the band.

They were quickly starting to pound show after show, sometimes 2 shows in one day.

They focused on playing their own material live as much as they could before entering the studio, and that with great success.

In 2013 they released their first EP "The Fifth Element" on Spotify and other platforms worldwide and got great response.

With some member changes back and forth, Rasmus was joining the band in 2014.

Rickard was emailing him because Måns (ex vocalist) were forced to step down due to personal reasons.

The first single they wrote together was All For Nothing. That where released early 2015. The band pushed forward in high speed and released 2015 the ep Reasons. 5 songs including soldier that where a statement that still follows the band.

They decided to write an album and started to write mean while they recorded the song save me featured Annika Löhaj. The song went very successfull. And they made a whole thing live around the song.

They delivered a message about fighting togheter for a better world. And the audience really took in the message and fought togheter with the band in the same battle.

The album that where named we suffer in silence where set to be released juni 2017 but where delayed because of issues with the producer to november 2018. The band where not very happy with the sound but thought that it was to much money and effort behind the album to not be released at all. So they decided to release it anyway.

The album didn't get as much cred as it could have if everything would be as the band wanted. But they saw this as a bump in the road that they could easily drive over. They shifted and went on tour with Takida and smashed into pieces and that became a way for them to tie new contacts. They meet up with Philip Strand and started to record a new EP, a world of disaster.

Rasmus was put behind the steering wheel alone for the first time and Apollo came to life. That was the first song written to the EP and a new sound that the band loved as a fact. This is writing the future 2019. The message behind the EP was to bring up every single problem in only 5 songs that the band thought were real ordinary day problems around the world. And a world of disaster had been a statement for pain, war and everything else in between. The EP brought the band a contract with Gain and Fifth Island Music that was signed early 2020 and the band saw a bright future. They were finally writing their own future with a label believing in them. Then Corona came and the band chose to enter the studio again and started to record their second album continuing their feelings about everything wrong in the world about issues never being spoken about.

They released the first song, Jaded Eyes, about bullying and being abused by your own family and friends.

The second song, As Above So Below, has a darker meaning and a darker message and it will be released early 2021 and hopefully the band will hit the road again in 2021 because they are more ready than ever. Bringing new songs and a new show together with the fans they are ready to write the future.

The rest is history, reafun tombe written.
